SCHOOL REPORT.

RELATION OF THE DISTRICT SCHOOLS TO THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The situation of Warner in respect to her schools is different from that of any other town of equal size and population in the State. The education our youth are to receive is not limited to rudimentary instruction in the Common School. Superior advantages are afforded by the establishment of the Simonds' Free High School.

Realizing how important is a just appreciation of our privileges, we desire to call attention to a danger that threatens to deprive the community of the highest attainable good. Evidently many suppose that the Common School is not to do as much in perfecting education as was sought to be done before the founding of the High School. We hear the remark often made, that children need not attend the district school, because in a little while they will be admitted to the High School. The consequence is, such scholars, when they have arrived at the proper age, are unfitted to enter that school, and if admitted derive little benefit themselves, and are a hindrance to the general progress of others. They are finally admitted from necessity, because the applicants are of that age, unless they are admitted their education is finished; or rather their opportunities are lost. We say to all who have allowed their children to be absent from the district school, with the idea that the High School will do all that is needful, consider this matter, and with the opening year return your sons and daughters to the old district school again to labor and study, there to become good scholars, so as to lead in the High School classes, and thus early derive all the advantages the noble munificence of Mr. and Mrs. Simonds sought to afford.

TEACHERS IN DISTRICT SCHOOLS.

Keeping in view the whole field of education, we earnestly urge upon all citizens to attend the annual district meetings, and there present and agitate the subject of hiring none but the best teachers to serve you; and be careful to choose the best men for prudential committees—persons discreet and considerate. Surely you will reflect that this is a responsible office, and that its duties require time and attention. If by negligence worthless teachers are employed, you lose not merely the amount of your school money, but what is of incalculably more value, you lose a year of your child's opportunity for education. The teachers during the past year have not all been what our needs require. Some are of a superior class, unsurpassed in qualifications, and in aptness to teach. The responsibility in this regard does not all, or mainly rest upon your town committee, but upon the prudential committees. There should be no doubt as to the fitness of a person to be a teacher before an engagement is made. There are good teachers who will serve you. Wait until you find such before employing. Let the appointed day for the beginning of a term pass, rather than put an incompetent person in the school-room as teacher. There are weeks enough in the course of the year for our good teachers to serve you all.

DIVISION OF SCHOOL MONEY.

That equal facilities may be afforded to all the children in town to obtain a good education at home, or to be fitted to enter the High School there needs to be a radical change in the basis of division of the school money. Under the present system of division, the school tax paid by the several tax-payers in each district is returned to the district in which they reside. The result is that ten times as much money is expended per scholar in some districts as in others. This is contrary to the spirit and intention of the statute, which requires that the polls and estate shall be taxed to educate all the children of the town alike. The children living in a district where the residents are wealthy, are not entitled under the law to superior advantages over the children of a district where the inhabitants are in moderate or poor circumstances. It seems to us that a fair and just method of distribution would be found in dividing a certain part of the money equally among the several districts, and the remainder in proportion to the number of scholars, in each district. It is fortunate that this matter will be called to your attention by a special article in the warrant for the annual town meeting. We invoke a careful consideration of this subject.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

This Institution requires your earnest thought and fostering regard. Consider well what you may secure by its regularly established terms under the direction of wise and skillful teachers. It is not alone the instruction given and the knowledge acquired in the recitation rooms that are to benefit your children. Characters are to be formed or largely affected. If your sons and daughters attend this school one, two, three, or more years, they will be different men and women than if they had remained away. This matter is of no less consequence than is the amount and character of intellectual acquirements. Habits are to be formed, tastes are to be cultivated, moral character is to be elevated or lowered. Your children cannot return to you just what they were when they first left you for new associations and new scenes. You desire them to acquire sentiments of honor, respect for authority, principles of integrity and truthfulness, and gentlemanly and lady-like manners and deportment. You look first to the teachers to care for all these things, as you have a right to do, and the presumption is that they are fitted for this high office. On your part it is required that you give them your confidence and trust to them generously. In many things you think not of, they know best what may benefit their pupils. They know the hindrances outside of the school-house and beyond the school hours that distract and disturb the minds of scholars, and destroy or prevent regular habits of study. Against such things the teachers cannot prevail alone. They must have your hearty and constant co-operation to establish habits of regularity in study out of school hours. To impress upon the student's mind that the school and study is the business of his daily life, to be attended to with that regularity with which the successful farmer, mechanic or merchant attends to his business. We suggest to you that you give to those in charge, authority to exercise a discreet rule over this very important element in the success of the High School.

Your committee deem it best to depart from the practice of reporting each term of school in the several districts only so far as the statute requires. This requirement is complied with in a tabular statement herewith given. The success or failure of individual teachers is well known in the neighborhoods where they taught. We prefer to let all stand on their own merits, and make their own reputations.

Respectfully submitted,

STEPHEN S. BEAN,	}	School Committee.

WARNER, March 2, 1876.

The subscribers appointed as auditors of accounts of the High School Committee having attended to their duties, report that we find the accounts correctly cast, and properly vouched.

G. N. TEWKSBURY, }
 W. K. BARTLETT, } Auditors.

The Prudential Committee of the Warner Free High School District, desire to call attention to the fact (as shown by the above report) that the income from the Fund and Tuition, is insufficient to warrant the employment of three teachers every term, although the interests of the school demand the services of that number continuously; and that a large portion of the valuable service rendered by Mr. S. S. Bean has been practically gratuitous, he having received only what remained after the other salaries and all incidental expenses have been paid.
